Currently, the following separate licenses are required for various recycling and salvaging activities:

1. Aluminum can reclaiming machines.
2. Auto wreckers.
3. Junk collectors.
4. Junk dealers.
5. Junkers.
6. Used bicycle, tire and battery dealers.
7. Used motor vehicle dealers (parts only).
8. Waste tire generators and transporters.

This ordinance consolidates these various license types by establishing a single “recycling, salvaging or towing” license for certain premises and vehicles involved in activities relating to recycling, salvaging and towing. In addition, this ordinance reorders and revises provisions for the purposes of clarifying language, and also:

1. Establishes a requirement that a business that non-consensually tows motor vehicles obtain a city license.
2. Makes recordkeeping and reporting requirements consistent across business types.
3. Adds various items to the definition of “regulated property.”
4. Establishes regulations for non-consensual towing.

Finally, this ordinance reorders provisions of the code pertaining to secondhand motor vehicle dealers.

Whereas, On January 15, 2015, the Recycling, Salvage and Scrap Metal Task Force approved its final recommendations, which included the creation of an “umbrella” license for all recycling, salvaging and scrap metal-related businesses which would:

1. Include vehicles as well as premises.
2. Include tow truck operators handling scrap vehicles.
3. Require plans of operation from all licensees.

4. Provide a checklist for applicants to select the activities for which they will be licensed.
; and

Whereas, The Common Council finds that members of the public and their property have been placed at risk in circumstances where their vehicles have been towed without their consent, due to unfair towing and pricing practices, inadequate notice of when vehicles are subject to towing, unreasonable prices for towing and storage, and lack of adequate recourse in the event of improper towing or storage; and

Whereas, In the interest of consumer protection and safety, it is necessary to license and regulate recycling, salvage and towing businesses in the city; now, therefore

The Mayor and Common Council of the City of Milwaukee do ordain as follows:
